

The Lie that Built the Northern Territory Intervention

Join Walkley Award winning journalist Chris Graham for his astounding presentation The Lie that Built the Northern Territory Intervention, an expose of a fraudulent ABC Lateline program which the federal government used to help mount the case for the NT intervention.

As Graham reveals, much of the content of the Lateline story, 'Sexual slavery reported in Indigenous community' was false.

The spotlight on Lateline's reporting has already seen an 'anonymous youth worker' unmasked as a ministerial adviser, and a doctor caught prescribing Viagra to an alleged paedophile.

This scandal so far destroyed several careers, sparked high level government inquiries and an apology to federal parliament, not to mention federal police raids on homes in Canberra and Central Oz.

Using primary documents, including leaked government records, Graham pulls apart

Lateline's reporting in a way that will leave you reeling, and seething.

"The scale of the fraud perpetrated by ABC Lateline, and the determination of the ABC more broadly to whitewash this scandal and avoid any further scrutiny is absolutely staggering," said Chris Graham.

"If you think you know what media behaving badly looks like, you probably need to think again."
